Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The surrounding roads are already over crowded with traffic which will worsen when the lower Thames crossing has been built. Apart from the A227 the other roads in the area are country lanes which are often single lane. Lack of schools, surgeries and other facilities are currently a strain on the local community. The public bus service is virtually non existent and expensive pushing people to drive cars in an area not built for high volumes of traffic. And the land is in the green belt which is protected.

Kind regards
