Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I cannot see how anyone running a children's home would consider this property suitable for that function. This is a residential area but on a very busy A road which already has considerable parking problems. I am very surprised that the house in question is suitable with regards to fire or other health and safety concerns. Our main concern is the possibility of having children with complex needs running amuck at all hours and associated anti social behaviour-I am not convinced that the staff will have the will power or ability to stop this as this is a business, whose main concern is profit-not having any consideration for the neighbourhood because they (staff) don't live here.
