Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This land is green belt land and therefore not appropriate for the intended use. Even if reclassified as grey belt land the impact on the local environment is unacceptable. It would be very unlikely that permanent housing would be permitted in this location for the proposed number of families due to the lack of amenities and compliance with the local plan. This site has already been deemed unsuitable for this use and yet the applicants have moved in illegally without seeking prior planning permission. The damage that they have caused to the surrounding environment (by bringing oversized vehicles down a restricted width road) is unforgivable and shows a lack of respect for the villages and surrounding areas. The same rules must apply to caravans. The site will inevitably include touring caravans and therefore the council must consider the application of S106 payments if they permit this development.

Kind regards
