Reasons for comment:

Comments: I absolutely object to this project happening. It is a complete invasion of privacy to all the homes surrounding the land. My children play in one of the gardens which backs onto the land and it would be completely inappropriate knowing people could watch out their windows of the new development houses into our private gardens. It does not matter how high the walls are, they can still see in the homes. Not to mention this will block all sun light in and outside the house. I'd love to know if anyone on the planning committee would appreciate a bunch of new build houses plonked on their back garden, especially for us families with young children. I really do hope you make the correct decision for us as we'd hate to see this ruin our neighbourhood. Just because something is legal, doesn't make it right!

Kind regards
