Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Newlands Lane is a single track narrow road. 67 houses would change the semi-rural nature of the area, adding traffic, noise, pollution, loss of habitat, loss of green areas and loss of trees, even if the access route was changed. These constant planning applications and pop-up housing estates everywhere aren't needed and aren't welcome. There are already too many cars using Whitepost Lane as a cut through from/to Vigo, it has become a busier and more dangerous road. The local facilities are minimal with 1 general convenience shop, 1 petrol station and a primary school. Residents will need to have a car to access the nearest shops, medical surgeries, train stations, schools etc thus creating additional congestion in the area. 67 houses = at least 67 additional cars. Instead of allowing the construction of houses, couldn't the council buy the land to protect the green belt before every parcel of land is built upon? Where is our food going to come from? Couldn't you use it to create farming apprenticeship and offer it for rental instead to a farmer?

Kind regards
