Reasons for comment:

Comments:	The addition of a further 100 houses in the area will have a negative effect on local Schools. Just 30 younger children is usually a years intake for the Primary School. Older students will have to be driven thus increasing traffic. Will impact an already congested road system and increase pollution levels; we already suffer from delays and traffic jams. The A227 is used as a connection between the M20 and A2/M2 for cars , large large lorries and Farm equipment of all sizes. It often floods due to an excess runoff which will only get worse if this is agreed and more land covered in concrete. It will add 300 to 400 patients to an already overstretched GP surgery and generally overload the small number of public services we have. The area is known as a special place for woodland habitat and the large wildlife population that inhabits it. I have many species of birds( 15/20) visit my garden together with fox and badger most to become homeless if this is to be agreed. The harm that will be caused by the introduction of these types of residential sites on the edge of country roads in areas with little infrastructure will benefit none and destroy much.
