Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The site on the Wrotham Road is situated on Green Belt and will have a detrimental impact on wildlife. Great Britain's one of the world's most nature depleted countries and of course this will add to that The site on the Longfield Road is next to the Helen Allison school and will severely affect the children's ability to learn. Also this part of the road becomes extremely contested at school time and is constantly down to one lane due to residents parking The addition of approximately 500 homes to the area will put even more pressure on infrastructure which is unable to cope at present

Kind regards
