Reasons for comment:

Comments:	This planning application simply doesn't make any sense. With 150+ properties being planned it would be reasonable to guess that this would add up to about 600 people (including children) and maybe 200 to 300 vehicles. *The local GP surgery and hospital are already at breaking point, as it is without the potential new increase to the local population. The transport links are quite poor. There is no local railway station and the bus service which doesn't run every day or in the evening is very limited.  There are not enough local shops and parking available at the shops to support a larger local population. I'm not sure of the status of the local schools and colleges but would they be able to support a large influx of extra pupils?  There would be a considerable increase in traffic volumes. I think the local roads would struggle to cope with. In general this application does nothing for local people. The basic infrastructure just isn't there to support this. Also it would be very sad to lose more g
