Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The area opposite the parade of shops cannot sustain yet more traffic. The A227 is often gridlocked and the area around the turning into the Longfield Road is chaotic during the school start and end times as well as during the later extended rush hour. More homes will mean more traffic along a road which is already failing to cope. It will be dangerous to have vehicles trying to access houses from the A227. There are not the services to cope with yet more houses in Meopham. The doctors' surgeries are already under strain and it's impossible to get an appointment. The same is true of the local hospitals.

Kind regards
