Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This site has an existing injunction on it and shouldn't have any property located on it. There are already up to 10 mobile homes, 15 plus touring caravans and up to 30 vehicles already located without planning permission. The environment and habitat has already been devastated with the illegal movement of these homes onto the land. This proves a total disregard for the environment and habitats of many species. This land has become an eyesore with high fencing and brick walls completely destroying the once beautiful landscape that existed before the illegal settlement. There appears to be many areas within the site that have large piles of debris. There is also evidence of some of this debris being burnt further destroying the habitat of certain species.

Kind regards
