Reasons for comment:

Comments:	Please see my previous objection, all points raised previously remain valid. The illegal development of the land, The burying of waste cesspits with no approval from water company, Digging up of the road, illegal closure of the road on many occasions, 3 driveways put in without permission- on a dangerous bend, no footpath for families to safely walk anywhere, burning of rubbish, illegal cutting down of many trees to force the way through since the "mobile" homes wouldn't fit, injunction already broken, while removal of unauthorised caravans and mobile homes is due in February, the people on site continue to bring in many more homes, Basically, they are ignoring all of the planning rules and hoping they will bulldoze the council into acceptance. The single track lane is not fit to take the multiple cars, trucks, vans and lorries already on site. If this is allowed, the council are setting a precedent for others to ignore the planning rules.
