Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I think that new homes are very much needed. My sons haven't really got a local playground, or they're either run down, so there's a need for one. My child's disabled, so it's a bit dangerous to take him there. So I like that one is being planned. I also just think it's good that they're building in the less built-up areas, because the built-up areas have already got enough.

Kind regards
