Stance:	Customer objects to the Planning Application
Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I have already objected to the pervious application and these objections still stand and I understand will be taken into account. However since my original objection more structures have been moved onto the site causing further damage to trees and hedgerows reinforcing my objection that White Post Lane is not suitable access for the continual delivery and removal of mobile home and caravans . In addition the creation of such extensive hard standing - without permission - is inconsistent with current design standards to control surface water to avoid flooding

Kind regards
