Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I wish to express my concern at this planning appeal . As I previously stated , this kind of development should not be granted permission . The new driveway poses a real danger right on the blind corner. I have witnessed the owner struggling to get out of her drive because of bad visibility and the new drive would be even worse . The houses on the plan are simply not suitable and one of them is far too close to the neighbouring property. This surely will impact on their privacy. Infilling of back gardens is something I totally disagree with and if permission is granted for this development, then what is there to stop other residents of Norwood Lane applying for the same thing ! The owner is applying for this because she knows she won't get the ridiculous price for the property that it is being marketed for without planning permission attached ! This smacks of total disregard for her immediate neighbours as she has no plans to live next to these proposed houses herself !
