Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I feel being part of gravesham and Kent we should be proud of our nature and natural environment and building further into it is unnecessary. Our country of England is already 60% built upon and we should be making efforts to go in the opposite direction not supper it. They can build anywhere else, in places that are abandoned, for sale or let. It's simply greed to want to build there huge NO from me

Kind regards
