Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Whatever monstrosity of a development is put on this precious land will look like ever lifeless estate propped up in the last few years, whilst these line the pockets of greedy developers the culture of the village is at stake. The a227 is already full enough and I'd hate to think of how bad it could get with lower Thames crossing C impending. Please think of the hedgehogs for once and not the pockets of those who have enough already - save meopham

Kind regards
