Reasons for comment:
Comments:	1 This will only have a negative affect on the traffic using the narrow Longfield road and most particularly the junction with the A227 which is becoming a accident blackspot. 2 The A227 itself is not designed for the traffic currently using it since its already a rat run between the A20 and the A2 and once the Thames crossing is complete it will be even more overloaded. The narrow A227 should not be taking even more traffic which will be the case with this proposed development. 3 This will mean more agricultural land being sacrificed for housing which will never be returned

Kind regards
