Reasons for comment:
Comments:	There are too many new homes being planned to be built on our green belt the A227 can't cope now with the traffic we are a small village with not enough infrastructure to facilitate these new buildings the hospital can't cope with all the new builds the doctors and school will all be oversubscribed When the new Essex Thames crossing is open this road will be a rat run to get across to the M20 and become even more dangerous to drive down than it is now ! This road is already a black spot with recurring accidents This needs rethinking

Kind regards
