Reasons for comment:
Comments:	This is a short-sighted policy on the part of our council, and runs counter to the state's policy of protecting green nature. The construction of these temporary houses will lead to huge discontent among living people in this area. Since these are temporary containers and temporary people, this will lead to an increase in crime, and so in an unstable area. The cost of real estate for sale will also sharply decrease. Nobody wants to buy real estate near such a place. The best will be to accommodate these people in hotels, since hotels are by definition a temporary place of residence, under constant 24/7 control. The best and most far-sighted solution would be to plant many different trees and create a park area and this would help with the struggle to release carbon dioxide into our atmosphere and create additional jobs.

Kind regards
