Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I have a close friend who has lived on this road for several years. He has recommended this location as a road to purchase my first property on, as my partner and I are currently looking to purchase our first property in the near future. One constraint I had was due to the lack of roadside parking, as it has been difficult to park when visiting him. I fear with the additional pressure from staff parking requirements for such a proposal, this issue will only be exacerbated. Therefore, if this proposal goes through, I would not look to purchase a property on this road. I object to this proposal on this basis.
