Reasons for comment:
Comments:	As a neighbor and staff member at a local hospital, I am appalled at the lack of insight to even consider this constant uncontrolled development of new housing in the area. As much as I understand housing is an issue, I fail to understand how can one increase the number of houses (and population) and not consider, first and foremost, infrastructures, fundamental safety and real needs of the population. We DO NOT need more houses but better services, quality of life and safety. Invest in the farming industry if you want the country to prosper instead of building without any sense. We are losing out land, our green spaces and our contry

Kind regards
