Reasons for comment:
Comments:	The land is green belt and should never have been 'concreted' with mobile homes erected on it without the appropriate permissions. The subsequent injunction proved pointless, as there were further buildings put onto the land, ripping up and destroying sections of White Post Lane in the process. Again, part of this application is 'retrospective' and the landowners show no respect for planning laws. This area was not marked for building and should be kept as green belt. Landowners cannot, and should not, simply purchase land and erect dwellings without permission, respect for neighbours and thus destroying hedges, verges, trees etc. Planning should be refused and the land returned to how it was before illegal building took place.

Kind regards
