Reasons for comment:
Comments:	Access to the Nuralite requires a lot more than this work, no matter which way you drive, HGVs going to the estate are becoming greater in number and are hazardous. Drivers rarely give way or even slow down. The roads are being torn up. HGVs are also a risk to walkers and cyclists, it's not just about motorists. With no footpaths, there is no refuge. There is a lack of parking in Higham now, if parking is removed, the cars do not disappear, they condense, making it harder for all.

Kind regards
