Application - 20230184

Location - Land At Brimsole Farm Brimstone Hill Meopham Gravesend Kent

Proposal - Conversion (change of use) of existing barn into new three bedroom dwelling with associated parking.

Referring to the above description, this development proposal does not meet the criteria to warrant involvement from the Highway Authority in accordance with the current consultation protocol arrangements. However, this particular application has been brought to the attention of the drainage team who have been asked to comment.

Drainage Comments

Raised kerbs and gullies appear to have been installed here in the past, presumably to alleviate a surface water flooding issue. Should this be lowered to facilitate a new access for smaller vehicles it could give rise to a risk of flooding which has attempted to be mitigated with those past works.

I note that the gullies drain into the pond and that this pond is proposed to be infilled. This would leave the gullies with nowhere to discharge to, giving rise to an increase in flood risk, not only to the property itself but also the public highway.

Based on the above, it is recommend that this application be refused.

Informative: It is important to note that planning permission does not convey any approval to carry out works on or affecting the public highway.

Any changes to or affecting the public highway in Kent require the formal agreement of the Highway Authority, Kent County Council (KCC), and it should not be assumed that this will be a given because planning permission has been granted. For this reason, anyone considering works which may affect the public highway, including any highway-owned street furniture, is advised to engage with KCC Highways and Transportation at an early stage in the design process.

Across the county there are pieces of land next to private homes and gardens that do not look like roads or pavements but are actually part of the public highway. Some of this highway land is owned by Kent County Council whilst some is owned by third party owners. Irrespective of the ownership, this land may have highway rights over the topsoil.

Works on private land may also affect the public highway. These include works to cellars, to retaining walls which support the highway or land above the highway, and to balconies, signs or other structures which project over the highway. Such works also require the approval of the Highway Authority.

Kent County Council has now introduced a formal technical approval process for new or altered highway assets, with the aim of improving future maintainability. This process applies to all development works affecting the public highway other than applications for vehicle crossings, which are covered by a separate approval process.

Should the development be approved by the Planning Authority, it is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure, before the development is commenced, that all necessary highway approvals and consents have been obtained and that the limits of the highway boundary have been clearly established, since failure to do so may result in enforcement action being taken by the Highway Authority. The applicant must also ensure that the details shown on the approved plans agree in every aspect with those approved under the relevant legislation and common law. It is therefore important for the applicant to contact KCC Highways and Transportation to progress this aspect of the works prior to commencement on site.

Guidance for applicants, including information about how to clarify the highway boundary and links to application forms for vehicular crossings and other highway matters, may be found on Kent County Council's website:
