Reasons for comment:

|           |  |

| Comments: | This development would create significant challenges in this location. Introducing 150 new homes is likely to generate more than 300 additional cars, along with regular delivery vehicles, refuse collection lorries, and other essential traffic. Directing all of this onto what is essentially a small rural lane would place considerable strain on a road that is not designed to handle such volumes. This could lead to safety concerns and practical difficulties for everyone who relies on this route. The site itself is high-quality agricultural land that currently supports food production. At a time when the UK is seeking to strengthen domestic food security and safeguard productive farmland, building over this area would result in the permanent loss of a valuable resource. |
