Reasons for comment:

Comments:

I object to the erection of an added storey to number 45.
My reasons are because -

- their drive isn't big enough, to house the amount of cars that are always residing at the residence now, meaning they already use what little road parking there is. Which stops other neighbours having family and friends visit due to lack of parking.
- what few bungalows that are left, should be kept as bungalows, for the use intended.

For people that are unable to use stairs, not just so families buy bigger plots to extend up and out. There will be no single storey properties left for people who really need them.

- Added congestion and lack of parking for the families that already live nearby. Due to the added vehicles needed, delivering building materials or the builders.
- lack of light to neighbouring properties.
- added noise and disturbance to the neighbourhood , with the construction and extra people in and around that property .

This extra disturbance could also affect the school that is directly behind the property, and the pupils that attend there.

- The extra mess, and dust of building materials that will spread into neighbouring gardens and properties. Causing a detrimental effect on the neighbourhood.

Kind regards
