Reasons for comment:
Comments:	I'm more than happy for the family to do what they need to do. Their children play in that garden and they need to make it as safe as possible including their privacy which I think is very important. It does not hinder anyone around them and this just gives those moaners in Istead rise to put a blocker on something... they will moan about everything/anything and it's not fair for a family with young children to be scrutinised. Please bear that in mind.

Kind regards
