Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I wanted to point out that the planning application sign was not placed on the property with enough time for anyone to comment, it was also placed on a far corner, not on the obvious gate/front. The site previously had all trees cleared and new concrete features such as kerbs added without permission, the council requested everything be put back as it was, but this was not enforced? The name/ref of the piece of land seems to have been changed.
