Reasons for comment:

Comments:	I was surprised to see an unsigned and undated page called Design Considerations in the documents and I strongly disagree with the contents. It is NOT a modest improvement and it is NOT a large plot. There are a variety of styles of houses but most are certainly not built up to the edge of the boundary "with overlooking circumstances". The sheet goes on to say that neighbours to no. 65 have no objections to the proposal and it questions their previous objections. I believe the writer of this paragraph to be making a completely false claim and I ask the planning committee to look into this claim. The owner of the house has already demolished the garage (I presume to make the plot appear larger) This will result in less room for parking on site. The house is situated on a sharp bend and on road parking is dangerous there.
