Reasons for comment:
Comments:	As this is a rural area the supporting services needed for this amount of potential homes, which will subsequently increase the amount of people and traffic, are far from adequate. There is also the matter of the destruction of land, habitat and lives of wildlife. Taking, constantly, areas of green land and trees, is destructive to natural biodiversity, something we are constantly being asked to consider counteracting with tree planting and other methods in our gardens, verges and areas of urban land.

Kind regards
