Reasons for comment:

Comments:	Objection It is bad enough that we already suffer from a lack of privacy when the trees have shed their leaves, with a building directly overlooking our living space and garden. In addition, we are required to bear the cost of keeping the trees cut back from our own garden while also enduring the noise, shouting, and swearing of students during the warmer months-precisely when we should be able to enjoy our outdoor space in peace. My wife is disabled, suffering from neurological issues and seizures, which are exacerbated by fatigue, stress, and noise. She should have the right to enjoy the tranquillity of her own garden without being subjected to further unnecessary disturbances. Now, we are expected to tolerate the noise of sports activities seven days a week until 10pm, with floodlights only adding to the intrusion. The road is predominantly occupied by older residents and young families-groups far less likely to welcome such disruption than university students, who may not be as affected by the chaos this would bring. And all of this to benefit a profit-making academy? This is completely unreasonable and wholly inappropriate for our community.
